ABOUT US

Canadian Paramedicine provides a platform for exchanging ideas and innovative programs, emerging news, trends, research, politics and association information affecting Paramedicine in Canada and around the world.

Canadian Paramedicine publishes six issues annually in addition to targeted supplemental special editions, published both in hard copy magazine format and electronically for digital subscribers. We have a distribution of more than 5,000 subscribers, with an audience composed of paramedics, emergency medical dispatchers, educators, researchers, administrators, and political representatives across all government levels in Canada and internationally.

Canadian Paramedicine focuses on sharing the stories of paramedics and paramedic services that provide information and insights useful to others within the industry. Topics include new research, program review, experiential learning and viewpoints on essential issues facing Paramedicine in Canada and internationally.

Canadian Paramedicine is committed to supporting the development of best practices across the country.
